Capital over $165,000—in Cash and Premium Notes

THIS Company offers unrivalled facilities for the frac-rance of Buildings and Personal Property against its. The advantages offered or equally beyond the reach of cla-cimum acres, at the red estate insured is by ins bound fact the assessment made to cover losses beyond the power of are-cumstances, as the real estar insured is by lass bound for the assessment made to come lorse beyond the power of easiens. Every person insured is a moniter of the Company, and entitled to one vore. The cost of insurance does not exceed one-third as much as its Stock Companies, agring nothing of the increased security and the incompanies can with which losses are settled. Buring the last few years, this Company have issued Sico Poliches, and made but three aversuments at a cost to the property insured, not exceeding two mills on the dollar. Its business is principally contined to this State.

THE undersigned would respectfully colicit the attention of dealers in and consumers of Coal in Milwankee to our Card, as above. The Bolivar Card is unquestionably imperior to any other inted in Ohio, for Grate, likel.camiling, Machinory, or Domestle purposes; and for steam nursers in a purpose as a superior to any except Briar IIII. It is peculiarly coll adapted to Shipping, as its extreme landness renders it capable of bearing any amount of handning, without water. It can be altered considerably elicaper than Brier IIIII, and for most purposes, is better.

It is our wish to introduce the article, and we respectfully solete orders, condient that a trial is only necessary to convince any of the truth of the above assertion.

P. L. MOSSIN,

A Brief Sketch of the Life of Maj. Gen. Win-field Scatt-Whig nominee for the Presidency.

Winfield Scott was born near Petersburg, in Vin-ginia, on the 13th of June, in 1786. He finished his studies at the College of William and Mary and was admitted to the bar in 1806. After practicing law in Virginia about a year, he emigrated to South Carolina.

hw in Virginia about a year, he emigrated to south Carolina.

In the summer of 1807, he volunteered, as a member of the Petersburg troop of horse, which had been called out under proclamation of the President, forbidding the barbors of the U.S. to British vessels of war. This was in consequence of the attack on the frigate Chesapeake.

Our difficulties with England caused Congress to pass an act in April, 1808, to increase the annex. Scott applied immediately for a commission in one of the regiments about to be raised, and in May, 1898, was appointed a captain of Light Artillety.

in May, 1898, was appointed a captain of Light Antillery.

Wer was not actually declared until June, 1812. The interval between 1805 and the declaration of war was one of great political excitoment. Scott sided with the Democratic party, supported the election of President Madison, and approved, advocated and wrote in favor of war measures.

In July, 1812, Scott was commissioned Lieutenant Colonel in the 2d Artillery, and proceeded to the Ningara Frontier. In October of that year, Lieutenant Elhott applied to Scott for assistance in men, to capture the Adams and the Caledonin, two British tensels of war then lying under the no men, to capture the Adams and the Unicolnia, two British twoels of war then lying under the protection of the guns at Fort Eric. The vessels were both captured; but Elliott was compelled to abandon the Adams. She got aground, and the Ericish attempted to re-take her, but were requised by the gallantry of Col. Winfield Scott.—This was the first time he had met the enemy— This was the first time he had met the enemy—here, no in every subsequent engagement where be was first in command, he was victorious?

A few days after was fought the memorable battle of Queenstown Heights. Scott was the hero of the day, and covered binnelf with glory. The battle bested for many hours, and was fought on the part of the Americans with most fearful oddagainst them. The British ramy having been reinforced, numbered not less than thirteen hundred men. Finding that the inflition on the opposite shore redu-ed, or was mable to cross to their and,
and that succor was hopeless, Scott's heroic band were at last compelled to surrender. But their gallant deeds upon that day carried inspiration to gallant deeds upon that day carried inspiration to American hearts. The displace of Hull's surrender was wiped off—the taunts of the enemy elacked—the character of the American army redeemed.

Scott was certied a prisoner to Quebec. While he was there, an incident occurred which had a most important bearing upon the future conduct of the war, and is deserving of particular men-of the war, and is deserving or particular mention.

At the time Great Britain denied the right of expatriation. In other words, she denied the right of any of her subjects to become citizens of another country, contending that they owed to her perpetual allegiance. According to this doctrine, a native of Ireland, Scotland or England, who had emigrated to the United States and become a naturalized American citizen, remained still a subject of the British Government, and forfelted his life for treason if found in arms against her. The United States denied this doctrine—her naturalization laws being founded upon the opposite theory.

while Scott was a prisoner at Quebec, the British retempted to enforce their doctrine of per-petual allegiance in regard to certain Irish pris-oners found in the makes of the American army at Caccastown. The following is a description of the scene:

"Scott being in the cabin of the transport, head it with arounded, and hastowed up. There he

the scene:

"Scott being in the cabin of the transport, heard a lastle upon deck, and hastened up. There he kand a party of British officers in the act of mustering the prisoners, and separating from the rest such as by confession, or the accent of the voice, were judged to be trishmen. The object was to send them in a frigate, then along side, to England, to be tried and executed for the crime of high treaton, they being in arma against their native allegiance. Twenty three had been thus set apart, when Scott reached the deck.

"The moment Scott rescribined the object of the British officers, he commanded his mon to answer no more questions, in order that no office election should be made by the test of speech, its companded them to remain silent, and they strictly obeyed. This was done in spite of the threats of the British officers, and not modifer man was repeatedly commanded to go below, and high alternations ensued. He addressed the party selected, and explained to them fully the reciprocal obligations of allegance and protection, assuing them that the United States would not tail to avenge their galant and highful soldiers; and retailation, and if necessary, a refusal to give quarter in battle, should follow the execution of any one of the party. In the midst of his animated hamague, he was frequently interrupted by the British officers, but though unarrand, he could not be silenced."

The Irishmen thus selected were sent to England. As roon as Seoft was exchanged, he pro-could not be silenced."

The Irishmen thus selected were sent to England. As soon as Scott was exchanged, he proceeded to Washington and reported the whole of fair to the Secretary of War by a written communication. This report was transmitted to Congress; and Scott, in his personal interviews pressed the subject upon the attention of members of the subject upon the attention of members. ked the subject upon the attention of members. An act was accordingly passed on the 3d of March, 1913, vesting the President with the power of retellation. In an engagement soon after, Scott captured a number of prisoners. Frue to his pledge given at Quebec, he immediately selected eventy-three of the number to be confined in the interior of the country, there to abide the fate of the twenty-three Irishmen taken at Queenstown and cost to Eucland for tail. and sent to England for trial.

The result of this firm resolution on the part of The result of this firm resolution on the part of Scott, and of the highlation consequent on his efforts was, not only to save the lives of the twenty-time Irish prisoners, but to compel England throughout the romainder of the war, to respect the rights of our naturalized citizens. By virtually abandoning her claim to perpetual allegience.

Just after the close of the war, as Gen'l Scott was halled by his old Irish friends for whom he had interfered at Quebec. They had just been released from the English prisons—and now ushed to embrace him as their delivered. He wrote to one to the Department in their behalf, soliciting for them they have been for land, and their arresings of pay. In both he was successful, and they, in common with hundreds of their countrymen taken prisoners during the war, delivered, with reason, that they owel their lifes and liberties to the lindness and zeed of Gen'l Scott in their heirif.

On the touth and eleventh of November, 1813, Scott defeated the enemy in two actions, one at Fort Matilda, and the other at Hooplode Creek.

Gen. Brown, in his official report of this battle says: "Brigadher Gen. Scott is entitled to the highest praise our country can bestow. His bitterate covered itself with glory."

The battle of Lundy's Lane, for Niagara as a frequently called, was fought on the 26th of July, 1811, jest three weeks after that of Chippewa, The battle commenced about forty minutes before supert and continued until midnight. Here again Scott was the master sput of the right. American water again triangular over the veteran regiments of Bhrain. Scott had two horses killed under him, was wounded in the side, but still he fought on until the cione of the battle, when he was proctated by a wound in the shoulter. This was the hardest fought battle of the war. Our limited space will not allow a more extended notice of its details, and, indeed, it would be superfinous to recepitulate the events of that glorious day, familiar as they are to every American school boy. Where so many have gathered imperishable laurels, it was truly a proud honor for the youthful Scott to be halled by universal consent, "the here of Lundy's Lane."

eart, "the here of Landy's Lane."

For his gallantry in these actions, Scott was soon after promoted to the rank of Major General, On Nov. 3d, 1814, Congress passed a resolution awarding a gold medal to Major General Scott, "in festiment of the high sense entertained by Congress of his distinguished service in the successive conflicts of Chippown and Niagara, and for his majoran polluntry and good conduct in sustaining the high reputation of the United Sentes."

Being still feeble from his wounds, he seem after went to Europe for the restoution of his health, and for professional improxement. He was also entrasted by the government with important diplomatic functions. He executed his instructions in so satisfactory a manner, that President Madisson caused to be written to bim, by the Secretary of State, a special vote of thanks.

In 1832, Scott was ordered to take command of the Black Hawk war. He sailed from Buffalo for Chicago, with nearly one thousand troops, in four Chienge, with nearly one thousand troops, in four seemboats.

On the 8th of July, while on the voyage, the Cholera broke out among the troops with fearful violence. On the boat in which Gen. Scott sailed with two hundred and twenty troops, there occurred in six days one hundred and thirty cases of Cholera, and fifty one deaths. After Gen. Scott had proceeded from Chiergo to the Mississippi liver, the postilence again broke out among histoops. During the prevalence of this terrible securge, his devoted attention upon his suffering soldiers exofted the admination of all who were present. In the language of a letter written at the time by an officer of the army. "The General's course of conduct on that occasion should establish for him a reputation not inferior to that which he has caused on the battle field; and should exhibit him not only as a warrior, but as a man—not only as the hencofinate, but as the here of humanity."

After the termination of the Black Hawk war, Gen. Scott and Gov. Reynolds were appointed by Thirage, with nearly one thousand troops, in four agambouts.

Gen. Scott and Gov. Reynolds were appointed by the U.S. Government commissioners to treat with the North Western Indians in reference to Il pending difficulties. In various conferences and with the deputations from the various tribes held with the deputations from the various tribes, it became the duty of Gen. Scott to conduct the discussions. This he did with great ability and ingensity, and the result of the commission was to procure a treaty, just to the Indiana and highly advantageous to the United States,—the Indiana coding the title to more than ten millions of acres, being a great portion of the lands of Joyca and Michigan.

being a great potton of the fanns of lowa and Michigan.

After the termination of the Black Hawk war, and of the treaty with the Indiana, Gen'l Cass, then Secretary of War, wrote in reply to Scott's official report as follows:

"Allow me to congratuate you upon this formate consummation of your ardness duties, and to express my entire approbation of the whole course of your proceedings, during a series of difficulties, requiring higher moral courage than the operations of an active cumpaign under ordinary sircumstances."

Directly after his return from the Black Hawk war, Gen. Scott was sent by President Jackson or a confidential mission of great responsibility. State, war, Gen. Scott was sent by President Jackson, on a confidential mission of great responsibility. South Carolina multification then thacatemed to embroil the nation in a civil war. There was imminent danger that the strift would at once begin between the chizons of Clarkston and the Ustates troops stationed there. The object of the President in sending Scott to South Carolina at this time, was to prevent, if possible, any direct act of collision, and at the same time embrec the laws of the Federal Government. Scott's moderation and discretion, while at Charleston, saved the country from the horiors of civil war. The full history of his valuable services on that occasion cannot be written, as much of it still remains under the seal of scenery.

On the 20th of January, 1536, Gen. Scott was oldered to take command in the Florida war. There he did all that the greatest military talent could accomplish. But the malice or envy of a brother officer, by roisrepts contations made to the President, procured his recall, for the purpose of having his official conduct subjected to the opinion of a Court of Enquiry. That Court, after full investigation, pronounced the charges against Gen. Scott unsustained, and further that "he had been zealous and indefangable in the discharge we discussed the set in the Send that, although he cities and that his when of cannation we for the contraction of the contraction of a court of Enquiry. In 1938 Gen. Scett was sent by the President to the Canada frontier—then in a state of fearful excitement on account of the barning of the Caroline within the American tentiony. The whole population of northern New York second about to much into Canada to average the wrong which had been done to the national honor. The object of the administration was to preserve the peace obtween the two nations, and pending difficulties could be settled by negotiation. For this papers Scott was sent to the frontier. There he aboued night and day, passing rapidly from point to point, superintending and directing the action-both of the military and the civil authority,—and frequently along a line of eight hundred miles, addressing inno use gatherings of the excited citizens. He succeeded in his mission beyond the expectations of the most sungine. The peace of the country was preserved.

expectations of the most striggme. The peace of the country was preserved.

During the same year he was ordered to the delicate service of removing the Cherokee union beyond the Mississippi. Hero he draphyed at once the highest degree of energy, sagacity, and humanity.

The leading journals of the day were filled with with encomiums upon the conduct of Scott in these envices. The National Intelligencer of

In 1839 alose the North Eastern Boundary difficulty. The disputed Territory was about to become the battle ground between the tropp of Maine and New Branswick. War was considered inevitable. In this crisis, General Scott wayngain deputed by the Government to calm the rising storm. His abia services on that accasion show him to be possessed of the highest talent as a statesman and diplomatist. A war considered inevitable was prevented—the honor of the country preserved—and Scott returned with firsh lamels upon his brow, and "the hear of Lundy's Lame" was halled on all sides as the "Great Pracificator,"

On the 9th of March, 1847, Gen Scott arrived before Vera Cuz. On the 14th of September, 1847, he planted the stars and stripes over the National Palace in the City of Mexico. Willin six arouths, San Juan D'Ullon,—the American Gibmitar,—was storated, and the battles of Cerro Gordo, Contreras, San Antonio, Chernbusco, Molino del Rey, and Chepaltepee, were fought and won. With less than ten thousand fighting men, he attacked and routed, again and again, thirty thousand of the best troops of Moxico, posted behind the strongest fortheration, and fishing with the canage of desperation. Nothing of tailitary achievement recorded in accient or modern history, can excel the 2loy of that march from Vem Cruz to the City of Mexico.

Such is a brief sketch of one whose life has been devoted to the service and glory of his rountry—and whose particular is enlarged enough to extend to the whole country. Born a Southernes—he has fought and bled alike for the North mid South—and to suppose that he could be willing to do injustice to either, would be to declate his life but a lie!

A few days after this, promotion, Gen, Brown, then chief in command on the Ningara frontial left Scott at Buffulo, to instruct and drill the army, which was then concentrating at that point. Sent Scott had entire charge of this camp of instruction for about three months. The result of the discipline and spirit which his teachings here infored into the Northern Army, were soon to be developed on the fields of Chippewa and Lundy's Lane.

The buttle of Chippewa was fought on the 5th of July, 1843. Scott with 1990 American, met on an even plain, and roated with the bayoned of the other three months. Does he know another second or third rate country lawyer who ever resigned the highest legislative office of the Nation to enlist as a common soldier to fight the battles of his country with musket and lumpsack on his shoulders—who by metit successively raised himself to the command of his regiment and of his brigade.

So queries the Madison Democrat of the Watertown Chroniele. If the allusion is to Mr. Pierce. dry history insists that that gentleman resigned his seat in the Senate for quite another reason—that, although he enrolled his name as a volunteer, he never carried musket nor knapsack, or erved as a private at all—that he received first a Colonels, and then a Brigadier General's commission, by favor, before arriving at the seat of war Tays the Nees, in its winning vey:

The above refers to the abusive language against Gen'l Scott, charged by the Albany Register.
The Register stated, directly, that such has guage was used. Mr. Greeley denied that he had written such a letter. The Register replied that it was informed by somebody that a Mr. Cobb of Cayuga Co, had shown Mr. Somebody a letter by Greeley in 1848, containing such language. Mr. Cobb, thus appealed to, writes that the letter did not contain any such language as the Register charged. Yet the News calls the proof positive that Mr. Guely did write it!

A Morro.-Our Democratic friends are making great noise about a cheap biography of Mr. Pierce, which has just been part in circulation.--By some strange mishap, the writer has on itted one item of Mr. Pierce's "belongings," which played a very important part in his military history. We hope the next edition will supply the deficiency, and beg leave to propose the following metto for the title page :

Sir Hudibras, his passing worth: The manner has he sallied forth. His arms and equipage he shown. His kerse's virtues—and his own.

The Whig Press, in summing up the sins of our nominee, among other things, state that Gen'l Pietee's father was a poor man of hish descent, and without a brilliant education!

If we we were not a model of patier ec, the vast number of fulschoods like the above now put in cheulation, would provoke us exceedingly. Of course, no such thing has been done, and the Newsknows it well enough. But what of that? The falsehood may, by a bare possibility, find some one to believe it gospel truth.

WILL DONE.-The Medison Democrat honors itself by holding the following language relative to General Score:

We most willingly concede to him military talent of the very list order—patriotism as price and as ferrent perhaps as that which warms the breast of any living man, and a fame equal to any of our most distinguished citizens. He has done his country service—his name is written upon the brightest pages of her history—and far be it from us to tarnish any one of the illustrious names which make up the jewels of our country's glory. We are sorry, though to see the Ironoccor insist on repeating the charge of Nativism against Gen-Scott. That was not so "well done" Strenge Count.-On the lath, at Made in. Mesers H. W. Gunnison and Francis Bassen, e. this city, and E. S. Bassos of the 4th Chr. it were admitted as attorneys. On the same day the fol-
